CHICAGO.

THIRD PAGE.

The last day's proceedings of the Presbyterian General Assembly at Indianapolis, and a column of interesting intelligence from the Kansas Gold Mines, will be found on the third page.

FOREIGN NEWS.

The news by the America is unimportant, except from a commercial stand-point. The movements of the hostile armies have resulted in no engagement. The Austrians continue their retrograde movement, their head quarters being now at Golasco, a village about twenty-five miles from Robbio, where the Hammonia's news left them. They are evidently retiring upon the Ticino in the vicinity of Pavia, the point at which one of their strongest columns crossed when Sardinia was invaded. They are now not more than fifteen miles from Pavia, and it is possible that they intend giving the French battle under the walls of that town which is strongly fortified. We take it that no importance is to be attached to the canard that the crossing of the Ticino by Napoleon will be the signal for an European alliance against him.

GALENA RAILROAD.

The new Directory of the Galena and Chicago Railroad Company have named W. H. Brown, Esq., of this city, for the Vice-Presidency, and E. B. Talcott, formerly of the Illinois and Michigan Canal, as Superintendent. Mr. Talcott takes the place of P. A. Hall. The Secretary, Treasurer and Attorney have yet to be chosen.

A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Mr. C. Davisson, from whom we have received a very interesting letter, dated in the Kansas Gold Mines, started down the Platte some days after his letter was written, in a boat, bound for home. On the second day of the voyage he was "shipwrecked on a snag, and lost everything he had—among other things, the collection which he had made up for the Chicago Academy of Natural Science. The accident is reported in the Rocky Mountain News—the journal of that locality—of a late date. We judge from the fact that Mr. D. set out to return, that the placer of "coarse gold" up in the mountains, for which the Chicago Company were searching, was not discovered.

FAIR OF U. S. AGRICULTURAL SOCIETY—SHALL IT BE HELD IN CHICAGO?

The people of Chicago have to determine very shortly whether or not the next Fair of the U. S. Agricultural Society shall be held here. We presume the matter rests entirely with them, and that it only requires a prompt response to the conditions proposed by the Executive Committee of that organization, to secure its location in our city. These conditions are substantially as follows:

1. The grounds (not less than twenty-five acres) suitably enclosed, with such necessary buildings and conveniences as the President may direct; an abundant supply of water delivered upon the grounds, in tanks or hogsheads, for the use of horses, cattle, etc.; hay, straw, etc., as needed; an adequate police force; steam engine for driving machinery on exhibition; lights and band of music.

2. A guarantee that the receipts shall not fall below $17,000, which sum is necessary to cover the premiums, and the expenses incurred by the Society.

There is scarcely a doubt that the last named condition will be more than met by receipts from visitors during the Fair. We understand that the Society has in no instance had to fall back upon the guarantee; and we do not believe the amount that would flow into its coffers, in the event that the Fair is held here, will be less than the sum received at any of the other places at which it has been held heretofore. The probability is that it will exceed, instead of falling below, the customary receipts. The first-named condition will require but a trifling sum compared with the substantial benefits that will accrue to the city—benefits which our citizens certainly know how to appreciate, and which we think they will not be slow to secure. We could enumerate more than one hundred individuals, any ten of whom would more than repaid were they to shoulder the entire cost.

We have heard the suggestion made that our citizens ought to take advantage of the present opportunity not only to secure the location of the National Fair, but also to take the initial steps to provide permanent fair grounds, buildings and fixtures, with the view of making annual fairs a permanent institution of the city. We heartily approve of the suggestion, and hope it may be acted upon. Such has been the policy of St. Louis, and she annually reaps a harvest of wealth as the result of her enterprise. We notice that the enterprising merchants of that city, the manufacturers, the millers, the hotel-keepers, and the Chamber of Commerce and other organizations, in addition to the valuable premiums offered by the Society at the next Fair, have each raised a separate fund, which they offer in premiums ranging from $25 to $300 for those articles in which they are respectively interested. Why may not something like this be done in Chicago in connection with the National Fair? Why may not a company be organized under the general incorporation law, take a lease for a term of years, with privilege of purchase hereafter, say of fifty acres more or less, erect the necessary buildings, and tender the use of the same to the United States Society for the present year? This, with special promiums on the part of our merchants, landlords, the Board of Trade and other classes of business men and capitalists, would add materially to the attractions of the Fair and to the substantial advantages which our city would reap from it, besides securing an annual Fair hereafter. What do our citizens say to this suggestion?

We understand that the National Fair will be held the week after that of the State Agricultural Society at Freeport. Instead of clashing, therefore, they will mutually benefit each other. Our citizens have no time to lose in this matter. The Executive Committee is now in the State. Whatever is done must be done quickly.

Sale of the Fond du Lac Railroad.

The Chicago, St. Paul and Fond du Lac Railroad was sold yesterday at Janesville, under foreclosures by the Trustees of the First and Second Mortgages.

The purchasers were Messrs. Samuel J. Tilden and O. D. Ashley of New York, acting as agents for the bondholders, stockholders and creditors of the road, under the plan of reorganization adopted in March last.

In accordance with that arrangement, work is to be recommenced on the Rock River Division from Janesville to the La Crosse Junction, and the line completed and opened through from this city to Oshkosh during the coming season.

Wisconsin Editorial Convention.

The third Annual Convention of the Wisconsin Editorial Association meets at Milwaukee on Wednesday, the 15th inst. Business of importance to the Press of the Northwest will come before the meeting. The Committee will accept our thanks for their polite invitation.

Ohio Republican Convention.

Columbus, June 2.—Convention organized this afternoon. Wm. Dennison, jr. was nominated for Governor.

The nominations are—for Governor, William Dennison, Jr., of Franklin; Lieut. Governor, Robert C. Kirk, of Knox; Supreme Judge, W. T. Gholson; Auditor State, R. W. Taylor, of Mahoning; Treasurer, A. P. Stone; Secretary, A. P. Russell; Board Public Works, John Gregory; School Commissioner, Anson Smyth.

THE CITY.

☞ The Recorder's Court commences the regular June term on Monday next.

☞ A series of fine summer showers swept over our city yesterday afternoon, laying the dust and cooling off things generally.

☞ A correspondent suggests that the clock on the West Makret House should be made to go and to keep correct time.

☞ The excursion train hence for Cincinnati on Wednesday morning reached that city at 4 A. M. of yesterday.

☞ The Excelsior Base Ball Club exercise on their play ground, corner of West Lake and May streets, at 3½ o'clock this afternoon. We expect there will be some fun as usual. Success to them.

☞ The number of arrests in District No. 8 from the 1st of May 1858 to the 1st of June 1859 was 108. The amount of fines, $728. In District No. 2 for the same period the number of arrests was 128. Amount of fines, $648.

☞ The Times local advertises his supply of Bridewell bread. Will Mr. Justice throw in a stone hammer and some boulders, and set the young man up. He has proved himself a penal institution in a small way for some time past.

☞ Capt. Moore, of the Private Police, informs us that his men have found twenty-four first class store doors left unfastened or ajar at night, within the first three or four weeks. Somebody is "keerless," rather.

☞ Meteorological observations taken by J. H. Reed & Co., apothecaries, 144 and 146 Lake street, June 2d, 1859:

Thermometer.			Barometer.
7 A. M.	12 M.	6 P. M.	7 A. M.	12 M.	6 P. M.
65	78	78	29.40	29.40	29.37

☞ Messrs. Joy & Frisbie made a grand triumphal procession yesterday of their two dozen ice wagons, all bearing the legend as they bear on their daily rounds the staple "Crystal Lake Ice." Two fine bands accompanied the procession.

☞ "A Mason" asks us to correct our statement that the unfortunate suicide, Dr. Burch, was a Mason, and that "were he of that fraternity, public honors at his burial would be debarred by the unfortunate circumstances of his death by his own hand."

Auction Sale this Morning at 9½ o'clock.—Gilbert & Sampson sell at their salesroom, No. 82 Lake street, a large and rich assortment of Parlor, Chamber and Dining room Furniture, Carpets, Oil Cloths, and a beautiful selection of Silver Plated Ware. Also, two second hand piano fortes.

☞ Hoffman & Marcus have opened a new and elegant cigar store in Methodist Church Block, 117 South Clark street. We know—for we have tried them—that they offer to customers as good an article of cigars as any other like establishment in this city. This is our opinion. Try them and see if it is not correct.

The Ann Arbor Forgery.—An item appeared in our paper yesterday, clipped from one of our exchanges which we are informed does injustice to a banker at Cincinnati. The name of the man arrested at Ann Arbor for forgery, and held to bail in $5,000, is Geo. Hustel, alias George Harris. A. L. Mowrey, instead of being the forger, is the one on whom the forged note was drawn.

The American Express Company.—This company has placed us under numerous obligations of late in forwarding packages from Indianapolis during the session of the Presbyterian General Assembly, and also for papers in advance of the mails. The company deserves and maintains a better reputation for the prompt and faithful discharge of business than the American.

"Here awa Wandering Willie."—An inquest held on the remains of the man taken from the South Branch at Bridgeport, has failed to discover his name or who he was, other than as he is believed to have been recognized as a wandering mendicant who has paraded that part of the city for some time past, harmless and helpless other than from the charities of the public. He was apparently about fifty years of age. A minute description of the body is registered at the Coroner's Coffin warehouse, No. 154 Washington street.

First Presbyterian Church.—The Young People's Mission Association, connected with the First Presbyterian Church (Rev. Mr. Humphrey, Pastor) are to have a Festival at Metropolitan Hall on Thursday evening of next week, June 9th, the avails of which will be appropriated to the missionary work in which this association are so deeply engaged in this city. The occasion will be one of great interest, as no efforts will be spared to make it one of the most social and home-like gatherings of the season.

Mrs. Bostwick's Pupils' Soiree at Metropolitan Hall.—We were glad to notice an excellent and appreciative audience at Metropolitan Hall last evening, on the occasion of the soiree of Mrs. Bostwick's pupils. The attractions of the evening were of no common order. Mrs. Bostwick added new laurels, and of the others, it may be said that this amiable lady and accomplished artist certainly has material in her hands, native talent we are proud to say, which is entirely worthy to receive her training and do it eminent credit. The young ladies deserve all praise for last evening.

☞ A dishonest servant girl, a Bohemian, named Caroline Behalnk, was held to bail yesterday in $500 to answer to a charge of larceny of towels, napkins, ladies' wearing apparel, sheets, knives and forks, &c., to the value of about forty dollars, from the house of Lehman Huchberger, No. 120 Edina Place, where the daughter formerly lived in the capacity of a servant. The goods were found at her mother's house, on Clark street, and the girl arrested at ex-Alderman Hough's, corner of Harrison Street and Wabash avenue, where she has lived for some time past.

Sudden Death.—A young man named Dodd, employed as Pastry Cook at the Adams House died at that hotel very suddenly yesterday morning. He rose at his usual hour but complained to his wife of feeling unwell. After remaining a short time in the lower part of the house she returned to the room where she had left him dressing himself, and found the door locked.—She called to him and got no reply and becoming alarmed called help and the door was forced when Dodd was found dead upon the floor. He had ruptured a blood vessel in the lungs and had almost instantly suffocated. Deceased was 28 years of age and much esteemed by Messrs. Pearce his employers.

The $150,000 Railroad Suit.—In the U. S. District Court has been on trial, before Judge Drummond, the case of Thomas Ely & Co. vs. Mississippi and Wabash R. R. Co., an action brought by a contractor who engaged to build 17 8-10 miles of the M. & W. R.R. from Warsaw to Carthage, for $360,000, after having occupied two days with the evidence, was yesterday, while the final argument was proceeding, the trial suddenly brought to an end by the withdrawal of a juror by the plaintiffs—thus leaving the case in its place on the docket. It will be tried again next term.

A. Warrington and Archibald Williams for plaintiff,

N. B. Purple and S. W. Fuller for defendants.

The Firemen's Benevolent Association.—An Important Decision.—In the case of the Firemen's Benevolent Association vs. Wales B. Lounsbury, the Supreme Court of this State have just delivered an important and interesting decision, whereby they reverse the decision of the court below, the Circuit Court of this county. It will be remembered that Judge Manierre held that the law of 1852 requiring the Agents of foreign Insurance Companies to pay two per cent. of all premiums received by them into the Treasury of the Firemen's Benevolent Association was unconstitutional.

By this decision of the highest tribunal in this State the law is declared valid and the agents of all Insurance Companies not incorporated by the laws of this State, are bound to pay into this Association two per cent. of all premiums received since the passage of the act.

This decision settles a very important question. E. Van Buren for plaintiff's, J. P. Root and E. C. Larned, for defendants.

SHOCKING AFFAIR IN THE WEST DIVISION.

Alleged Murder of a Wife in a Drunken Quarrel with her Husband.

Considerable excitement was caused in that vicinity of the West Division yesterday morning by the report that at No. 185 South Cedal street, in the West Division, the wife of one Edward Fogarty, a journeyman moulder, had come to her death at the hands of her husband.

The parties occupied three upper rooms, a small bed room, and a front and back room, connected by folding doors. They have been married about thirteen years, and have three children, the oldest, Mary, being about ten years old. They have always lived happily together until within the past two years, during which time they have had frequent quarrels, owing to the too frequent use of intoxicating liquor, to which both of them were more or less addicted.

Fogarty's business was that of a moulder, and he has generally been a steady workman, but owing to his intemperate habits he was discharged some few weeks since. During the intervening time both of them have been drunk a large part of the time.

It seems that the woman died at their residence as above, from the effects of a blow received from her husband a week ago Sunday, when Fogarty being very drunk, in the course of a melee struck his wife over the head with a chair three blows, one of them inflicting a severe contused wound, without, however, breaking the skull. Since that time the woman has frequently complained of pain in her head, and about eleven o'clock on Wednesday night she died, her husband at the time being beastly drunk in another room. A brother of the woman, named Patrick Hanrahan, who was aware of the nature and origin of her injuries, on learning of her death immediately caused Fogarty to be arrested.

Coroner James held an inquest yesterday morning, when the following jury was empanelled:—John Boorman, Foreman, S. B. Berry, Albert Cone, Robert McLune, S. D. Comstock, G. P. Upton, E. T. Vaughan, John Murphy, J. A. J. Birdsall, E. Erskine, John Oliver and John Fitzgerald.

Dr. Hollister was summoned and held a post mortem examination, which revealed a serious external bruise on the back part of the head, and beneath it large clots of blood. A large quantity of serum was found on the brain, its vessels also being much congested. In his examination Dr. H. gave weight to the intemperate habits of deceased as related to the cause of her death, but ascribed the exciting cause to the blow referred to. The jury returned the following verdict:

"That the said Mary Fogarty came to her death upon the first day of June, 1859, from compression of the brain arising from serious effusion, produced by a blow received from the hands of her husband, Edward Fogarty, on Sunday, the 22d of May."

Fogarty was committed to jail upon a Coroner's warrant.

Scene in the Police Court of the Central City.—Mr. William Hanford, a young gentleman from Boston, in company with his third principal, set out some days since from Chicago, and took passage by the Eric canal. At Syracuse, finding himself somewhat benighted, he applied for a bed at the watchhouse, and was supplied for the evening with the upper side of a board. In the morning he was brought before the magistrate, who asked him: "Why did you not sleep on the boat?"

Hanford—"I got a cold in my eyes."

Justice—"Did you like your lodgings in the watch house?"

Hanford—"No."

Justice—"Then how soon do you intend to proceed on your journey?"

Hanford—"As soon as I can find the canal."

His examiner, in a few words, showed him to the canal and tell him which way is West." [Exeunt. Syracuse Journal.

We suggest a public reception be in readiness here for the young man when he arrives.

Three Days Later from Europe.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMSHIP AMERICA.

THE AUSTRIANS RETREATING.

A Battle Momentarily Expected.

A Decline in Breadstuffs.

Sackville, N. B., June 2.—The Royal Mail steamship America arrived at Halifax yesterday afternoon. Her advices are three days later than those previously received, and are of considerable importance, more especially in a commercial point of view.

The steamship Washington, from New York on the 7th of May, arrived at Liverpool on the 19th. The steamship Circassian, from New York May 4th, via St. Johns, arrived at Galway on the 19th. The steamship Ariel, from New York May 7th, arrived at Southampton on the 20th.

The news from the seat of war is without any feature of great importance. No battle had as yet occurred.

The Austrians had removed their head-quarters to Garlasco and had also withdrawn from Vercelli, which place had been occupied by the French and Sardinians. An action was looked for at any moment.

All the Austrian ports had been blockaded by the French squadron, and many of their vessels had been taken.

There were vague reports that the Emperor of Austria and Major Hess had reached Milan and left for Paris.

Later news had been received from India. Tantia Topee had been tried by a drumhead court martial and hanged.

In the Liverpool breadstuffs market, prices had a declining tendency and all descriptions were slightly lower.

Provisions were steady, with the exception of beef, which was heavy and slightly lower.

The London money market slightly easier. Consols quoted 97¼@97¾.

The Austrians were expected to remain inactive till the Emperor reached the camp.

The Liverpool Post publishes what is called reliable information, that the passage of the Ticino by the French will be the signal for a European alliance against France, and that the Austrian troops will therefore leave Italy.

The bulletins of the belligerent parties are quite unimportant.

All the channels to the Venitian capital are blocked up.

The English elections were concluded, and the final result is a maintaining power of twenty three.

The Bombay mail of April 26th had arrived. Yeh, the late Imperial Commissioner at Canton had died in India, where he was a prisoner in the hands of the English. The Bombay export market was active, but that for imports was fir

PIKE'S PEAK—AUTHENTIC INTELLIGENCE.

We print, this morning, in another column, a letter from CLARENDON DAVIDSON, dated at Arapahoe, in the Pike's Peak country, May 2d, which will be generally read. Mr. Davisson is known to most of our city readers as the former Commercial Reporter of the Chicago Tribune, and a reliable and judicious man. We have implicit faith in what he has related from his personal knowledge, though he differs somewhat in his opinions from the crowds of emigrants who are returning from the reputed gold fields.

Without doubt, since the gold fever first set in, a vast amount of exaggeration has been indulged in by speculators and others interested, for the purpose of inducing emigration; and it is now kept up by disappointed gold-hunters to hold emigration in check. The truth unquestionably lies between the two extremes; and our correspondent, now on the ground, knowing that whereof he writes, seems to have hit it. The public will not be compelled to wait much longer for intelligence that will settle the matter definitely, or at least to the satisfaction of all who intend a visit to the country about which such conflicting stories are afloat. In advance, we may say this much: the reasons given for the outrageous deception that it is alleged has been practised, are insufficient. If the favorable reports with which the newspapers have been filled for months, prove to be fabrications, the motives of those who are responsible for them must receive some other explanation than that with which we are now acquainted. Men capable of compelling the movement of 50,000 to 100,000 men toward a distant point, through a savage country, needed not to be told that unless the emigrants found good pecuniary reasons for remaining in the places to which they had been allured, the speculators in claims and town sites, would derive no possible advantage from their presence. They also knew that the country was not needed nor desired for agricultural or commercial purposes; that nothing but the belief in the existence of gold therein would induce emigration to it, and that nothing but a remunerative yield of gold for a given amount of labor would keep emigrants there after they had arrived. We do not see, then, when the speculation was to come in—to whom the corner lots and valuable claims were to be sold. Hence, we distrust as pure fabrications, or an accumulation of "hearsays," all the stories that have been told of the forged letters by which sons have been dragged away from home to join their prosperous fathers, and wives encouraged to make a journey of seven hundred miles over the plains for the purpose of sharing wealth with Croesus-like husbands. They are not natural or probable, and they must be exaggerations. We are not believers, either, in that kind of total depravity that would amuse itself at Arapahoe, Denver City or Auraria with chucking over the weariness, starvation, nameless misery and death which a causeless and fruitless emigration of an army of persons to those distant places would be sure to bring in its train. We wait then with anxiety for the intelligence which will end the dispute, and establish the worth or the worthlessness of the diggings to which tens of thousands have rushed.

TAXATION IN LOMBARDY.

Not a few of our German friends, with the pardonable prejudices of nationality, claim that Lombardy and Venice, the Austrian provinces, are better governed than any other part of Italy; and that it is the fault of the people if they are not prosperous and happy under the rule of the despot to whose tender mercies they were consigned by the treaty of 1815. The London Quarterly Review, a Tory organ, by no means illy-disposed toward Austria, has an able paper on the condition of these provinces, which scatters the theory of our German friends to the four winds. It is there stated that the provincial or government taxes levied by the Austrian authorities, on all landed property, have, until a year or two past, amounted to a fraction more than thirty-eight and one-half per cent. of its estimated income! These, be it remembered, do not include the regular local taxes levied annually, which are about half as great as the government taxes, nor the very heavy taxes upon the transfer of or succession to, real estate by heirs or others. Lately an "impost extraordinary" has been levied; and at this day the taxes paid by every land-owner in the Lombardo-Venitian kingdom, exclusive again of mere local charges, are fifty-seven and one-half per cent. on its estimated or assessed receipts! Apply that rate of taxation to the property owned by the German-Americans in Chicago, subject them to secret trial without the power to confront their accusers, make the slightest offence or suspicion of offence even, the occasion for the use of the lash upon their bare backs, subject their wives and daughters to the ignominy and torture of public whipping under the eyes of a mob of Austrian soldiers justified by the infernal code in whatever they may do, and our excellent Germans, who permit themselves to wish for the defeat of Victor Emmanuel and his powerful ally, would have the Austrian government of Italy as it is.

The consequences of this horrid misgovernment are forcibly stated by our reviewer thus: "The inhabitants live on their little capital, while it lasts, of beasts or other 'stock,' or disappear to wander abroad or 'starve; that the diseases attendant upon famine are raging; that man is consuming the food of beasts; and that in one single province forty six hundred properties of deceased persons remain unclaimed, because the 'heirs are unable to pay the tax upon their 'succession.'"

Admit that France is despotically governed; that, as the result of the war, Sardinia will become, in all but the name, a French province; that the son of Napoleon will be crowned King of Rome; that Murat will be seated on the throne of Naples, and that all Italy will come under French influence and French law, even then the overthrow of the irresponsible and bloody tyranny that produces results like those which we have noted in Lombardy and Venice, is the thing before all others to be pushed for!

ONE OF THE RESULTS.

The canvass in Virginia, just concluded, and that in Kentucky now going on, have effectually squelched the late excitement in the Republican party, in favor of an union with the Opposition of the South; and, henceforth, all attempts in that direction must be abandoned as unnecessary and absurd. It is demonstrated that Republican men and Republican measures have, at least for the present, nothing to hope for south of Mason and Dixon's line; and that a victory, if won at all, must be the result of labor among the people of the North. The contests of which we speak have had this good effect; they have taught the Republicans the necessity of self-reliance and of earnest effort. If it be heeded and put in practice, the party to-day is stronger in the sixteen Free States than if it had a straggling and uncertain minority in half a dozen of the Slave States, at its heels! This is a fact which the unbaked Republicans, who have been laying traps to catch a Know Nothing here and an Old Line Whig there, have obstinately overlooked.

The Stabbing Affray at Kankakee.

We learn from the Kankakee Democrat, of Wednesday, that Fiegiel, or Flagel, who was stabbed the day previous by Burton, was not killed as reported by an informant. He was still alive on Wednesday morning, but his condition was regarded as critical.

Report of Specie.

The New York Tribune of Wednesday says $850,000 in specie went to Boston to-day for the steamer, and it is estimated that the Vanderbilt and City of Baltimore will take from one and a half to two millions more on Saturday.

☞ The Jews of Tuscany have tendered to the Provisional Government an expression of their grateful sense of the seasonable act which makes all religious sects equal before the law.

WATERING PLACES, EAST AND WEST.

With the return of warm weather, soda fountains and iced drinkables, the annual begin to Saratoga, Newport, Cape May, and the rest of the summer houses, begins. Preparations are on foot all over the country for the great rush of 1859, which will differ from the great rushes of 1858, '57, '56, etc., only in change of date and faces, neither of which will be noticed by any one but Jenkins. That careful historian will regret from the bottom of his soul, (or his soles), the absence of the lovely Miss Polkamazourka, the fascinating Miss Chickadee and the gushing Mrs. Tigerlily, "but we can hardly feel the disappointment of their loss in the presence of the rare Miss Zephyrworsted, the calm, poetical Miss Ultramarine, and the full-orbed Madame Dogstar." Then, after the usual routine of dancing and flirting, the usual amount of scandal, much drinking and some gambling, the crowds will disperse to winter quarters and return to the round of the great rush of 1860.

The watering place mania is not peculiar to any race or latitude, except as it is peculiar to civilized races and latitudes. It has become a confirmed national habit among the wealthier classes of England and nearly all the European states, as well as our own country. It has a hundred times with my long rubber boots: have "chased the antelope over the plains," and brought down a huge buffalo, besides much other small game. I have been away up in the Rocky Mountains twice—up Vasque's Fork of the Platte—almost up among the Ute Indians of Utah, besides camping near this with Mexicans, Arapahoe Indians, Cheyennes, Kioways, Camanches, Apaches and Sioux, all of which are gathered here in considerable numbers, and none of whom can speak English. My trips through the mountains, amid snow half-leg deep on the ground, and snow storms over head, among droves of all the varieties of game peculiar to this region, were most interesting, and I may sometime give you an account thereof. The most interesting feature, however, was the discovery by the Chicago Comp'y, with whom I have been here for a fortnight, of better prospects for gold mining than had before been made known. That company consists of the following gentlemen: Messrs J. P. Horton, David P. Foote, S. B. Sampson, Geo. N. Simmons, E. G. Reynolds, A. C. Kent and John F. Green. These gentlemen are the most substantial and best miners here. Their first attempts at this stream proved failures, but their discovery of coarse gold at a point 25 miles above this in the mountains (or near 40 miles north-west of Denver at the mouth of Cherry Creek) on Vasque's Fork of the Platte, is likely to turn out better. They are packing up as I write, to start to-day to give it a trial. Probably a hundred others will follow or go with them. It is but a short distance from Long's Peak, on a small stream, which they have called Chicago Creek; a branch of this will furnish them water. Pine in abundance surrounds the locality. A flock of 150 big horns, or mountain sheep, fed near it, which, with black-tail and Virginia deer, antelope, elk and bear, will furnish most of their food. Mr. Foote shot a large grey wolf and a small black martin the other day; another of this company shot an antelope or gazelle with a revolver, this morning, on a plateau near their camp. I have its head and horns, together with some of the finest horns of elk, ibex, deer, mountain sheep, etc., I ever saw. These, with other specimens I have gathered, would be a rare addition to the "Chicago Academy of Science," illustrating, as they do, every branch of natural history in this region of the Rocky Mountains. Would'nt you like to have a lecture from me in Metropolitan Hall, (or maybe you have a new and better Hall now) on the subject of these specimens, and "what I saw at Pike's Peak?

I am told that three more Chicagoans, Messrs. Geo. Starr, Rufus Cook and Clark Morton, arrived at Denver yesterday, and will probably go to the mountains. Three wagon loads just came in from South Bend, Indiana, who will also go.

A large company are here from La Salle and Bureau counties, Ill. A portion of these are gone and going home, discouraged by the exaggerated reports of rich diggings outside of the mountains. Stread, Libby and Telfar of La Salle, return home to-day. E. A. Bowen, Nicholas Groat, W. H. Valentine, and L. Wiley, from La Salle, are still here, with F. Metcalf and J. Viele from Lamoille, Bureau Co., and W. H. and W. Allen from La Porte, Ind., a portion of whom are going in the mountains to-day, and the rest are likely to do well, mining here. Large numbers are daily going home and arriving. Provisions are extremely scarce and high, a large majority of the emigrants having come without supplies. Some have starved to death on the way, and others are starving here. Nobody cares for anybody else—it is "every fellow for himself, and the Dull tak' the hindmost." The country is very healthy, but when one gets sick he has little or no attention. I have had the pleasure, if such it may be called, of feeding many that were starving, dividing my clothing with the naked and freezing, and healing the sick, disabled and neglected. Many are returning by fat-bottomed boats on the Platte. I have one built for my own return trip, but may be induced to stay a short time longer to learn the result of mining in the newly discovered mountain diggings. From the States we have no mails nor news, and are entirely in the dark. I trust my letter will induce none to immigrate here until something better is known. I might write you a volume, but must close for the present. C. D.

THE FARM AND GARDEN.

The Crops—Winter Wheat—Spring Wheat —Corn—Strawberries and Strawberry Beds.

WEST URBANA, June 1, 1859.

WINTER WHEAT.

We have before stated that only half the usual quantity of this grain had been sown in this part of the State, and that it gave promise of a fair average yield. It has now headed out, and assumes a more positive position. The tillering out was meagre, making it rather thin on the ground; add to this that most of our farmers either sow a large per centage of chess, or sow an old stubble containing it, that many fields turn out like the singed cat, worse than they looked; and a number of farmers are ploughing under for corn what they had supposed to be wheat, until the chess head dispelled their error. On the whole, the promise is not as good as at our last notice, three weeks since.

SPRING WHEAT.

This crop looks well, and if it meets no drawback, will help out the winter wheat crop. Some farmers complain that the seed did not come up well, which we have no hesitation in believing, especially when sown on corn stubble, and but imperfectly harrowed in. As spring wheat should always be sown on fall plowed ground, and as that ground is always beat down and run together by the winter and spring rains, it is but reasonable to suppose that thorough harrowing is of no small importance to the germination of the seed. It is too common to see half of the wheat above ground after harrowing, and such farmers are in the habit of bound to complain of bad seed instead of bad farming. The chintz bug is already afield, and we hear of damage to this crop to some extent, but is to be hoped that the late heavy rains and cold weather will put a check to this pest. On the whole we can but indulge the hope of a good crop of this grain. Our own little patch of ten acres, is nearly ready to head out, though the dry term of the past two weeks somewhat checked its luxuriance.

CORN.

The early planted corn has a firm stand, but that planted say after the 10th May, has in most cases been replanted. After the dry weather set in, blackbirds, squirrels, rats, and mice, commenced a war of extermination, destroying it as it came up: but the heavy rain of last week has nearly put a stop to their depredations. The blackbirds have plenty of grubs, and the rats and mice have left for the grass land. Farmers continue to plant, and if the season proves favorable we must have an immense crop of corn. We observe complaints of heavy rains in other parts of the State, but here the weather has been favorable with the exception that the middle and last part of May was too dry; but the ground is now in excellent condition, with indications of more rain, which would not be amiss in a day or two.

STRAWBERRIES AND CREAM

Are now in order, and have been, since May 25th, when the "early scarlet" commenced ripening for table use. Next week we shall have the "Hudson" and "McAvoy's Superior," which will extend the season. The "Early Scarlet" is the best early strawberry yet introduced to the West, and while other people run wild after some wonderful new sort, we are content to have a full supply of these for family use. The berry is not large, but rich, which is not the case with the large sorts; the flavor of the berry is in the outside, consequently small berries have the richest flavor. If you have any doubts about this try a few of the brobdignags in comparison with the smaller ones; or to be more definite, just try one of the sleeping cars of the Illinois Central, you can be sure to breakfast, give our favorite "Scarlets" a test, and return home the same evening, and if they do not prove satisfactory we will forfeit a quart of country cream. [Ah, "Rural," you should not tempt us so sorely! Did you ever hear of an editor indulging the luxury of strawberries fresh from the garden? We must be content to take them second-hand from the stalls. Many thanks to you, nevertheless.—ED. P. & T.]

STRAWBERRY BEDS.

Now and all of this month is a good time to set out new beds of this delicacy. The ground should be rich, finely pulverized, (use no manure,) and plants set before or after a shower or in the evening, and in that case watered. Rows four feet apart and one foot in the row where a cultivator can be used most of the season in their culture; next year they will produce a fair crop. Out of over forty sorts that we have tried for family use, we still adhere to "Early Scarlet," "Hudson," and "McAvoy's Superior." The first is of medium size, very early, a good bearer, and of great value to the "Hudson" as a fertiliser, near which it should be planted. The "Hudson" is very valuable for preserving, as it is very firm, and also two weeks later. "McAvoy" is very large and soft, of mild, agreeable flavor, will not bear much handling, and consequently unfit for market.

Vote on the County Seat of Douglas County.

DOUGLAS CO. June 1st, 1859.

EDITORS PRESS AND TRIBUNE:

The election for determining the County seat of the new County of Douglas was held on Monday the 30th ult., Arcola and Tuscola being the competitors for that honor. The following vote was cast:

Precincts.	Tuscola.	Arcola.
Arcola		497
Garfield	179	97
Lake Fork	190	13
Tuscola	765	2
Albany	297	77
Bradley	109	91
Owls	11	91
Collins	9	136
	1,560	799

Thus you will see that Tuscola has borne off the prize by a majority of 1,198 votes. In April, as you will remember, the same question was voted upon, Albany being then a competitor, and neither place getting a majority. The total vote in April was 1,454; now it is 2,676.—How would you undertake to account for such an increase of population as is here indicated? Is it customary, outside of Kansas, for villages of from one hundred to two hundred population to cast from three hundred to eight hundred votes? It seems to your correspondent that Oxford, Kickapoo and Delaware Crossing, in Kansas, are slow towns, in the way of making poll lists, compared with Arcola, Tuscola and Albany. But this is Douglas county, and what's the use of the name if we are not true to it?

CROP PROSPECTS.

GENESEO, Henry Co., Ill., June 1, 1859.

EDITORS PRESS AND TRIBUNE:

GENTLEMEN: I notice in yesterday's PRESS AND TRIBUNE a letter from our townsman D. W. Elder, Esq., which to me seems to give very wild and erroneous opinions as to the coming harvest. However near Mr. R. may have guessed last year, he is, without doubt, over-frightened this year. I have been through this county from its southern line almost to its north-east corner, in company with an experienced grain producer, and have taken much time to visit and examine the growing crops. The real facts in regard thereto are that wheat is far superior to what it was last year—eats very much better than then, and can never presented a better appearance in Henry county on the first day of June than it does to-day. All things considered the prospects are very good indeed. Within the last week, it is true, there have been some complaints of the ravages of the Hessian Fly in winter wheat, but we hope they will not prove a serious evil. Now we have no disposition to interfere with our friend's opinion, but we wish him to observe. We have not certainly never seen the time when farmers were more disposed to look on the sunny side, to hope for the payment of their debts, and to look for the speedy approach of "the good time coming." We think the best way for us to do is to try, but complainingly, but with earnest effort and with cheerful hope. If farmers can be induced thus to labor and to wait, a season of plenty will be poured upon them, and no Shylocks will ever trouble them.

The Democracy Give Up Pennsylvania—Efforts to Unite the New York Fractions.

[Special Dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial.]

NEW YORK, May 31st.

It is understood here that the Democracy have given up Pennsylvania as hopelessly lost, at least so far as next autumn's election is concerned, and that they intend to devote themselves to carrying New York. The first thing to be done is to unite the clans and factions here. With this object in view, the National or Dickinson Democrats, representing about half the counties of the State, was held at the Astor House on the 19th, which adjourned to meet at the same place to-day. In the meantime Mr. Beardsall, Mr. Dickinson's son-in-law, issued a circular, calling upon the Dickinson faction to appear in strength to-day, and the Convention met, numbering 150 delegates. Judge Dan'l D. Atkins, of Duchess county, was called to the chair. The object of the meeting was to consult with regard to the future action of the party, with reference to the next State Convention. Among the notable Hards present were Edwin Crossall, Gideon J. Tucker, J. Cox, Canal Commissioner; Greene C. Bronson, Judge Whiting and others.

The Committee, of which Fernando Wood is Chairman, appointed at the last meeting, presented a report, commencing with a letter to Deane Richmond, Esq., inviting a consultation, and suggesting that the nominating convention shall not be called to appoint Delegates to the National Convention at Charleston, till November next, as otherwise the Presidential question would prove a fire-brand at the State election. The report next stated that Deane Richmond had replied, expressing his willingness to cooperate with his Democratic brethren, and stating he would submit the matter to the State Committee.

The report commended a resolution, requiring the Chairman and Secretary of the State Committee, to convene a meeting thereof, at an early day and take decisive measures to confine the action of the next State Convention to the nomination of a State ticket only, so that an united and uninterrupted effort should be made to elect Democratic State officers and a Democratic State Legislature, at the next election. The report was adopted, but a long debate arose on the adoption of the resolution, during which Taylor offered the following:

Resolved, That if the State Committee decline to accede to our respectful request, we will take issue before the people in the next State Convention.

This led to a long debate, during which a member remarked that Deane Richmond and Peter Cagger didn't care a fig how the Democratic party was divided, provided they could elect a President without New York.

This and similar resolutions were finally withdrawn, and one to the following effect adopted:

That the Com. of one from each judicial district appointed at the meeting of the 10th inst., be continued and authorized to receive any communication from the State Committee in relation to delegates to Charleston, and to call another meeting, if found expedient.

The Convention adjourned with three cheers for the Chairman, and three cheers for the Administration of James Buchanan and Peoples' Delegates to Charleston.

After the meeting, a private meeting of Democratic editors was held. The prospects of a union are not regarded as remarkably flattering.

A Letter from Mrs. Poulin—She Proposes to Trade off her Child for a Negro Girl.

We have been handed the following letter by Mr. Poulin, of this city, from his erring wife, which, for cool impudence if not something worse, anything of the kind that has ever come under our observation. The girl, Lucy, mentioned in the letter, is a servant belonging to Mr. Poulin, (Mrs. Shadeg, 60), and the child which she proposes to exchange is her own, about five years of age. The letter is post marked Cincinnati, Ohio:

MAY 23, 1859.

MR. ISADORE POULIN—Dear Sir:—I wish to write to you a few lines to give you some news of us, and to tell you that Eugenie speaks of you every day, and that she wants to go and see her Papa in the worst way. She cries for her good Honorine and her black Lucy, every day; I hope you are not mad at me because I went away with Mr. Augusto * * * * * I am very happy with him, he treats me like a wife. I do not regret what I have done, for I am happy with him.

I will tell you one thing, if you will give me Lucy, I will give you up Eugenie mother; if not, you cannot get her. If you are willing to do so, you can come yourself and get her. We will be glad to see you.

I want you to write right away as soon as you get this letter; cause we might be gone from here if you wait too long. Direct your letter to Eugenie Poulin, Cincinnati, Ohio. Write right off. I cannot wait no longer than ten days. Mr. Augusto will write to you when we receive an answer from you.

We are all well, and wish you the same. Kiss the children for me.

MARY.

BEREAVED BY A NEGRO.—We learn by a gentleman from Warrenton that Mr. G. F. Spence, well known at Milliken's Bend and Warrentown, was killed on Saturday last by having his head almost severed from his body with an ax in the hands of a negro man belonging to himself. It appears from the negro's story—there being no other persons present—that they went to the head of Diamond Island, just below Warrentown, to get out some boat gunwales that had lodged there among the driftwood; and while he was cutting them loose with the axe, his master stooped down to pull away a stick of timber, placing his head under the axe as it descended, by which his head was cut off. This is not a very likely story.—Vicksburg Whig, May 19th.

MRS. SOUTHWORTH.—The Washington correspondent of the Evening Post, writing the 26th, says:

Mrs. Southworth, who left here a few days since, and who sails to-morrow from New York, goes to England at the invitation of her English publishers, whose guest she will be while in England. Bonner pays Mrs. Southworth $2,000 a year for her writings for the Ledger, her English publishers pay her $4,000 more for advance sheets of her stories, and I suppose the book publishers here pay her as much more. In this case, at least, woman's work, and that work literary, does not go unrewarded.

☞ Mr. Buchanan left Washington for North Carolina on Monday last, and will be absent about ten days.

THE KANSAS GOLD MINES.

Letter from C. Davidson, Esq.

News of the Chicago Company, the La Salle Company and other Illinois and Indiana Gold-Seekers.

[Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]

ARAPAHOE, K. T., foot of the Rocky Mountains, May 2, 1859.

For auld lang syne's sake, I will write you a short epistle from this most interesting region. I have wandered far over many a weary mile of wilderness and mountain since I saw you, guests of the PRESS AND TRIBUNE, not making much money, but acquiring great stores of invaluable health. Thank God, I am once more physically a man; I can hunt and travel, climb mountains and sleep on the ground, relishing hard bread made of Mexican flour, with venison, and coffee without sugar or cream, more than I once could the choicest bill of fare of the Tremont, Richmond or Briggs.

I have seen much that would interest you and your readers since I came here three weeks since—have been up Cherry Creek from Auraria and Denver, been a delegate, to and drawn up the preamble and resolutions for, the first convention to adopt measures to form a new State here, called Jefferson; have witnessed the hanging of a murderer by Judge Lynch, seen Capt. Bassett shot down in cold blood by Seudder, both from St. Louis; have waded the Platte a hundred times with my long rubber boots: have "chased the antelope over the plains," and brought down a huge buffalo, besides much other small game. I have been away up in the Rocky Mountains twice—up Vasque's Fork of the Platte—almost up among the Ute Indians of Utah, besides camping near this with Mexicans, Arapahoe Indians, Cheyennes, Kioways, Camanches, Apaches and Sioux, all of which are gathered here in considerable numbers, and none of whom can speak English. My trips through the mountains, amid snow half-leg deep on the ground, and snow storms over head, among droves of all the varieties of game peculiar to this region, were most interesting, and I may sometime give you an account thereof. The most interesting feature, however, was the discovery by the Chicago Comp'y, with whom I have been here for a fortnight, of better prospects for gold mining than had before been made known. That company consists of the following gentlemen: Messrs J. P. Horton, David P. Foote, S. B. Sampson, Geo. N. Simmons, E. G. Reynolds, A. C. Kent and John F. Green. These gentlemen are the most substantial and best miners here. Their first attempts at this stream proved failures, but their discovery of coarse gold at a point 25 miles above this in the mountains (or near 40 miles north-west of Denver at the mouth of Cherry Creek) on Vasque's Fork of the Platte, is likely to turn out better. They are packing up as I write, to start to-day to give it a trial. Probably a hundred others will follow or go with them. It is but a short distance from Long's Peak, on a small stream, which they have called Chicago Creek; a branch of this will furnish them water. Pine in abundance surrounds the locality. A flock of 150 big horns, or mountain sheep, fed near it, which, with black-tail and Virginia deer, antelope, elk and bear, will furnish most of their food. Mr. Foote shot a large grey wolf and a small black martin the other day; another of this company shot an antelope or gazelle with a revolver, this morning, on a plateau near their camp. I have its head and horns, together with some of the finest horns of elk, ibex, deer, mountain sheep, etc., I ever saw. These, with other specimens I have gathered, would be a rare addition to the "Chicago Academy of Science," illustrating, as they do, every branch of natural history in this region of the Rocky Mountains. Would'nt you like to have a lecture from me in Metropolitan Hall, (or maybe you have a new and better Hall now) on the subject of these specimens, and "what I saw at Pike's Peak?

I am told that three more Chicagoans, Messrs. Geo. Starr, Rufus Cook and Clark Morton, arrived at Denver yesterday, and will probably go to the mountains. Three wagon loads just came in from South Bend, Indiana, who will also go.

A large company are here from La Salle and Bureau counties, Ill. A portion of these are gone and going home, discouraged by the exaggerated reports of rich diggings outside of the mountains. Stread, Libby and Telfar of La Salle, return home to-day. E. A. Bowen, Nicholas Groat, W. H. Valentine, and L. Wiley, from La Salle, are still here, with F. Metcalf and J. Viele from Lamoille, Bureau Co., and W. H. and W. Allen from La Porte, Ind., a portion of whom are going in the mountains to-day, and the rest are likely to do well, mining here. Large numbers are daily going home and arriving. Provisions are extremely scarce and high, a large majority of the emigrants having come without supplies. Some have starved to death on the way, and others are starving here. Nobody cares for anybody else—it is "every fellow for himself, and the Dull tak' the hindmost." The country is very healthy, but when one gets sick he has little or no attention. I have had the pleasure, if such it may be called, of feeding many that were starving, dividing my clothing with the naked and freezing, and healing the sick, disabled and neglected. Many are returning by fat-bottomed boats on the Platte. I have one built for my own return trip, but may be induced to stay a short time longer to learn the result of mining in the newly discovered mountain diggings. From the States we have no mails nor news, and are entirely in the dark. I trust my letter will induce none to immigrate here until something better is known. I might write you a volume, but must close for the present. C. D.

Popular Sovereignty in Kentucky.

Our readers have heard much of popular sovereignty in Kentucky, of Magoffin, the Democratic candidate for Governor, opposing the slave code, and of the national ground taken of the Democracy of Kentucky. The Louisville Courier, which has advocated a slave code, has all along contended that Magoffin agreed with it. Mr. M. has at last written out his idea of popular sovereignty, which we re-produce in his own language:

"That Congress has the power to protect while it cannot prohibit slavery in the Territories; that the Territorial Legislature, as its agent, cannot exclude or abolish slavery, directly or indirectly, by unfriendly legislation; that such legislation is void, and would be declared unconstitutional by the Federal courts; that it is the duty of the Territorial Legislature to protect slave property, and property of all kinds; that the rights of property of all kinds are under the protection of the Government, the Constitution and the laws; that our rights and remedies seem to be now complete in the Territories, and nothing has occurred to show their inadequacy; * * * and if it should be necessary to pass laws to enforce the decisions of the Judiciary, or even to call out troops, that it would be the duty of the Government to do so."

The Douglas Democracy of Illinois insist that Magoffin stands squarely upon their platform. Do they accept the above exposition of it? Will the Union answer? and will the Herald inform us wherein the Buchanan Democracy of Illinois differ from Magoffin.

The Storm in Livingston County.

We learn from the Pontiac Sentinel that the storm of the 30th ult. in Livingston County made a complete wreck of everything in its path, which averaged half a mile in width. The house of Mr. Delos Robinson, with its contents, was scattered in every direction, nothing but the floor and a stove being left to mark the place where the house stood. The next house, belonging to Mr. S. Schlosser, was scattered in fragments over the prairie, and of the house of Mr. Wm. Drecker, not a stick was found within half a mile. A house in Esmen belonging to Mr. Stafford, shared the same fate, as well as that of Mr. Chambers, at Rook's Creek, hardly a stick being left to tell where they stood. The roof of the house of Mr. Alva Potter of the same place, together with ten acres of timber, was destroyed. Mr. E. Stratton's house, at Pike, was blown eight feet from its foundation, and a corn crib sent flying through the air, a distance of 80 rods. Other houses, fences and farming implements along the route were more or less damaged. Mr. Joseph Perry had 160 acres of timber almost totally destroyed. His loss is $2,000. No one reported as killed.

Editorial Organization.

[From the Rockford Register.]

An informal meeting of the editorial fraternity, was held at the Holland House yesterday, to consult upon the time and place of holding an Editorial Convention agreeably to the suggestion of E. W. Blaisdell, of the Rockford Republican. After a free interchange of opinion, it was decided to hold a Convention at Freeport, during the session of the State Agricultural Society.

On motion, the following Committees were selected to make the necessary preparation for that Convention:

On Organization and Rules—

J. R. Scroggs, Freeport Bulletin.
C. K. Judson, Freeport Journal.
Wm. Brown, Chicago Prairie Farmer and Tribune.
E. C. Daugherty, Rockford Register.
C. H. Lanphere, Springfield Register.

On Business—

C. E. Judson, Freeport.
J. W. Sheahan, Chicago Times.
H. H. Houghton, Galena Advertiser.
J. R. Scroggs, Freeport.
W. F. Boyakin, Bellville Democrat.

The precise day, place and hour, will be fixed at the earliest possible moment by the Freeport editors, and due notice given so that there may be no difficulty in perfecting an organization and in otherwise proceeding to business, so as not to interfere with other business connected with the Fair.

The Fame of Washington Irving in Spain.

James Brooks, of the N. Y. Express, writing from the Alhambra, says:

I write now under the shadow of the walls of the Alhambra. A mount but a few steps, and the glories of the Vega, made almost American by the spirit of the pen of our countryman, Irving, are before me.

Washington Irving, quoting quaintly Spanish Priest's story, has peopled almost every hill and valley here, and henceforth in all Granada, from Malaga to Cordova, seen, and hence it is Andalusian and Granadian scenery what Walter Scott and his poems and Romances are to Highland life and story. The Spaniards are as proud of him as we are. They show the room in the Alhambra where he stayed and studied, the balcony out of which he looked upon the city, the walks he took, &c., while they add on, as usual, many romances Washington Irving than has become the hand-book, the guide-book, of old Moorish Granada.

The Competing Railroads.

[From the N. Y. Tribune, 1st.]

The Erie road, we understand, has expressed a willingness to join the New York Central in an advance of rates upon the eastern rendered at Buffalo hereafter half some weeks ago, but which rejected when it came before the Board of Directors, mainly, it was understood at the time, through the influence of the President. The New York Central and Pennsylvania Central arrived at a good understanding last week, and this new movement of the Erie management may possibly lead to the adoption of a common schedule of rates.

☞ Messrs. Gerrard and Rice, the rival candidates for Congress in the VIth District of Kentucky, who had the late pistol fight at Boonville, have both retired from the canvass, leaving their party to nominate somebody else.

☞ It is thought George D. Prentice will be nominated for Congress by the Opposition Convention which will assemble on the 9th inst.

THE OBERLIN RESCUERS!

UNCONSTITUTIONALITY OF THE FUGITIVE SLAVE LAW.

Opinion of Judge Brinkerhoff.

We find in the Ohio papers the following Opinion in the case of the Oberlin rescuers—Bushnell and Langston—delivered by Judge Brinkerhoff, of the Supreme Court of that State:

BRINKERHOFF, J., said:

Since the close of the argument of these cases—Sunday and a visit to my family intervening—I have not had time to do more than hastily to sketch a brief outline of my opinion on the question they present. This I give, and I may and say not, as leisure or inclination may prompt, commit them to paper, with the reasons on which they rest more fully and in detail hereafter.

I. Under the advice of the District Attorney of the United States, the indictments under which the relators were convicted, are appended to, and form a part of, the return to these writs. The question whether they charge a crime or not, is therefore before us. Both indictments are fatally defective, in this, to wit, that neither of them aver that John was held to service or labor in the State of Kentucky "under the laws thereof." If there was no crime charged in the indictment, the judgment of the District Court of the United States under which the relators are held, is coram non judice and void; they are illegally restrained of their liberty, and ought to be discharged.

II. 1. The indictment against Bushnell contains but one count, which charges the rescue of John from the custody of an agent of the claimant of his labor and service in Kentucky —John having been arrested and held in custody without warrant or any color of legal process.

It appears, then, on the face of the record which is made a part of the return to this writ, that here was a person domiciled or sojourning in this, a free State, and therefore presumed in law to be a free man, "unreasonably seized" and "deprived of his liberty," not only "without due process of law," but without the pretense or color of any process whatever. This arrest and custody was in direct contravention of the fourth and fifty articles of the amendments to the Constitution of the United States. The rescue of a person thus "unreasonably seized" and deprived of his liberty without due process of law," cannot be a crime; and any statute or judicial procedure which attempts to make or treat it as a crime, is unconstitutional void.

2d. The indictment against Langston has two counts; the first of which is entirely similar to that against Bushnell; and the second of which alleges a similar rescue of John while arrested and held in custody under a warrant issued by a Commissioner of the Circuit Court of the United States, authorized by act of Congress to issue such warrant, and under the authority thereof to arrest, hold, and remove the person described therein to a foreign jurisdiction as a slave.

The acts of Congress referred to clearly attempt to confer on these commissioners the power and functions of a court; to hear and determine questions of law and of fact; and to clothe their findings and determinations with that conclusive authority which belongs only to judicial action. And the issue of the warrant mentioned in the indictment was a judicial act.

These provisions of the acts of Congress referred to, and all warrants issued under them, are entirely unconstitutional and void for the following reasons:

1st. These Commissioners are appointed by the Circuit Courts of the United States only; hold their office at the will of such Courts; and are paid by fees. Whereas, by the express provisions of the Constitution of the United States, (Art. 2, Sec. 1, and Art. 3, Sec. 1,) the judicial functionaries of the United States must be appointed by the President, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate, hold their offices during good behavior, and receive a fixed compensation which may not be diminished during their continuance in office.

The warrant of such a commissioner, therefore is a nullity; it could afford no authority to hold a man in custody, and to rescue him from such illegal custody could not, by the law of the land, be a crime, and therefore the imprisonment of Langston by way of punishment of such pretended crime, is an illegal restraint of his liberty, and he too, ought, therefore, to be discharged.

III. These relators ought to be discharged, because they have been indicted and convicted under an act of Congress upon a subject matter in reference to which Congress has, under the Constitution of the United States, no legislative power whatever.

As to the correctness of this proposition, there does not rest on my mind the shadow or glimmer of a doubt.

The Federal Government is one of limited powers, and all powers not expressly granted to it, or necessary to carry into effect such as are expressly granted to it by the terms of the Constitution, are reserved to the States or the people. Amendments, Art. 10.

"No person held to service or labor in one State, under the laws thereof, escaping into another, shall, in consequence of any law or regulation therein, be discharged from service or labor, but shall be delivered up on claim of the party to whom their service or labor may be due." Art. 4, Sec. 2.

This is the only clause of the Constitution from which anybody pretends to divine, or in which anybody pretends to find a grant of power to Congress to legislate on the subject of the condition of fugitives from labor. I can find in it no such grant. The first part of it simply prohibits State legislation hostile to the rendition of fugitives from labor. Such fugitive shall not be discharged "in consequence of any law or regulation" of the State into which he shall escape, but shall be delivered up." By whom? By Congress? By the Federal authorities? There are no such words; and no such idea is hinted at. This is evident from an inspection of the whole of the preceding portion of this article.

Art. 4, Sect. 1. "Full faith and credit shall be given in each State to the public acts, records and judicial proceedings of every other State. And the Congress may by general laws prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings shall be proved, and the effect thereof." Here, in the first place, is a compact between the States respectively—an agreement of the several States to and with each other, of the "public acts, records and judicial proceedings" of each shall "have full faith and credit" given to them in all. Had this section closed here, would any one claim that it embraced any grant of legislative power to Congress? I think not. But the framers of the Constitution thought that Congress ought to have the power "to prescribe the manner in which such acts, records and proceedings should be proved, and the effect thereof;" and hence they have the power in express terms. When they intended a grant of power to Congress, and not a mere contract stipulation by, or injunction of duty upon the States, they say so, and leave us no room for cavil on the subject. But let us go on.

Sec. 2. "The citizens of each State shall be entitled to all privileges and immunities of citizens in the several States."

"A person charged in any State with treason, felony, or other crime, who shall flee from justice, and be found in another State, shall, on demand of the executive authority of the State from which he fled, be delivered up, to be removed to the State having jurisdiction of the crime."

That these clauses of section two are mere articles of compact between the States, dependent on the good faith of the States alone for fulfillment, I suppose no one will deny. And do not confer upon Congress the power to enforce their observance. Then follows the provision in respect to fugitive slaves, and is the only clause of this character of any grant of power to Congress, and from which clause, why did they not say in the first section, in recasts, records, and judicial proceedings, and in the second section, to whom shall data at which full faith and credit shall be given to this question, except by a denial of such intention? Expressio unius exclusio alterius, is a legal maxim of the common law. The express mention of one thing implies the exclusion of things not mentioned. It is the dictate of reason and common sense. It is a maxim which applies alike in the interpretation of contracts, statutes, and constitutions. Its application was never more obvi

Piles! Piles!! Piles!!!
—What is it? How Cured?—Thousands of persons have Piles—suffer for years with the disease—yet few know what it is or how it is cured. Every case of Piles, whether manifested in the form of external tumors, frequent bleedings, or in violent itching and irritation, depends essentially upon congestion of the abdominal venous circulation. This produces the engorgement, dilation of the veins, formation of tumors, hemorrhages, pain and suffering; and the disease can only be fundamentally cured by medicines which, taken internally, relieve this abdominal venous congestion. Hence ointments, washes, and even injections, are so ineffectual.
HUMPHREY'S HOMEOPATHIC PILE SPECIFIC, a simple sugar pill, taken two or three times per day, cures the disease by curing the condition upon which the disease depends. Hundreds have been cured by it, even of the most obstinate cases. All will be promptly benefited by it. Price, 50 cents a box.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY OF THE
Presbyterian Church, Old School.

[Special Correspondence of the Press and Tribune.]
INDIANAPOLIS, May 23, 1859.

ELEVENTH DAY.

I recapitulate the vote had last evening to fill the Chairs in the Northwestern Seminary.

I. For the Chair of Didactic and Polemic Theology—

Dr. N. L. Rice	214
Dr. E. D. McMaster	45
Scattering	18
Total	277

II. For Chair of Biblical and Ecclesiastical History—

Willis Lord	218
J. C. Moffat	23
Scattering	34
Total	275

The unfinished business of last evening was taken up this morning, and Drs. Anderson, Edward Clark, Gurley, and others, having withdrawn their names, the following Chairs were filled, as follows:

III. For the Chair of Historical and Pastoral Theology and Church Government—

Dr. L. J. Halsey	206
Scattering	41
Blank	7
Total	254

During the absence of the Tellers, Dr. Sparrow, from the Committee on Narrative, reported two new Presbyteries had been added during the past year, a larger number than ever before. One hundred and twenty-nine Presbyteries had sent up Narratives—sixty-five reporting revivals within their bounds. Among those lost was placed Ningpo, in China, regarding which some highly interesting statements were made. The United States Receiving Ship North Carolina, was likewise spoken of.

The universal harmony of the Church, the prevalence of the spirit of prayer, the great attention paid to the religious instruction of youth, leading to revivals in Sabbath Schools and literary institutions; increase of expository preaching; increased attention to the religious interests of the colored people; and growth in liberality throughout the Churches, were also mentioned as matters of devout thanksgiving. The report speaks in the warmest terms of what it designates as the revival among the elders.

He felt bound to state, however, that while we thus had abundant cause for thankfulness, we also had cause of humiliation in the presence of our Divine Master. The prevalent worldliness of the Church in some quarters was here dwelt on most feelingly.

The report closed with an earnest appeal to the Church—the army of the Lord—to be up and doing, ever working, ever praying.

Report received, adopted, ordered to be signed by the Moderator, and published in the appendix to the Minutes.

The fourth Chair was then voted on with the following result:

IV. W. M. Scott	165
Other votes	81
Total	246

And the Rev. Dr. Scott having thus received a majority of all the votes cast, was declared duly elected to the Chair of Biblical Literature and Exegesis.

Dr. Humphrey moved to reinstate Judicial Case No. 4 on the docket, and refer it to the next Assembly, with leave to the appellant to make proof of due appeal. Carried, and case so referred.

The following persons were then duly elected, (the whole number of votes cast being 207).

DIRECTORS OF THE THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY OF THE NORTHWEST.

FOR THREE YEARS—S. T. Wilson, J. M. Buchanan, F. N. Ewing, J. P. Conkey, Samuel Steel, Ministers.

A. P. Waterman, Thomas H. Bebee, N. C. Thompson, W. G. Holmes, James M. Ray, Elders.

MEMBERS OF THE BOARD OF DOMESTIC MISSIONS.

The result was announced as follows:

MINISTERS—P O Studdiford, D D, in the place of Rev. J J Janeway, deceased; Micholas Murray, D D, C C Beatty, D D, R L Breck, D D, Stuart Robinson, D D, Joseph McElroy, D. D., George McNeil, D D, John N C Grier, D D, J H Rice, Henry Perkins, D D, Wm D Howard, D D, A G Hall, D D, Robert Steel, D D, Lewis Chessman, D D, Henry J Van Dyke, Wm. W Eels.

LAYMEN—James Lenox, Wm Nassau, Sen., Jonathan Ogden, John Ralston, William A. Porter, C C Beatty, M D, F S Shields, M D, S C Day, Joseph G Mitchell.

BOARD OF PUBLICATION.

The election for Directors of the Board of Publication, resulted as follows:

MINISTERS—B. M. Smith, J. McDowell, W. Blackwood, W. S. Plumer, N. D. Snodgrass, Reuben Smith, Thomas Smyth, J. C. Watson, E. P. Humphrey, W. P. Breed, I. N. Campbell, R. J. Breckenridge, R. T. Berry.

ELDERS—John Sibley, James Ross, Thomas Foster, James Dunlap, W. J. Mortien, H. McKeen, James P. Engles, E. Vail, Joel Jones, D. C. Campbell, Joseph Morehead.

FOR ONE YEAR—Stephen Alexander, G. D. Sherrod.

BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The election for Directors for the Board of Education resulted as follows:

MINISTERS—E. P. Swift, W. W. Phillips, M. W. Jacobus, M. B. Hope, William Chester, William Blackwood, William M. Paxton, C. W. Shields.

LAYMEN.—Silas Holmes, James Blake, John Perkins, Sr., N. D. Ewing, T. G. Bailey, Morris Patterson, C. Gregory, J. Shoemaker, John Ogden.

In the place of Henry Potter, deceased, D. W. Hill, and in the place of A. Robinson, deceased, W. E. Dubois.

Judicial case No. 1 was then taken up, Dr. A. G. Hall appearing for the appellant, and Messrs. Rankin and Miller for the appellee. Mr. Bliss, at Dr. Hall's request, was associated with him as counsel.

The case, in brief, seems to be that Abraham Frazer, an elder of the church in Caledonia, U. T., absented himself from the public ordinances of the church, inasmuch as he conscientiously thought himself bound to remain away during the pastorate of a minister whom he found unprofitable. On the one hand it was claimed and on the other denied, that this absenting occurred with the knowledge and consent of the Session.

The reading of the various papers in that case and the arguments of the parties, occupied the remainder of the day.

There will be very little, if anything more of general interest, transacted during the rest of the session. Consequently, you need not expect to hear anything more from me unless something unexpected transpises. The Assembly will probably adjourn to-morrow evening, although, owing to the multiplicity of minor matters, it may not be able to complete them all by that time. H.

INTERESTING DETAILS OF NEWS.

We are in receipt of the third number of the Rocky Mountain News, of date May 14th, from which we make the following clippings. The reader will of course determine for himself the degree of credibility to which they are entitled.

THE EMIGRATION.

The tide which ten days since was carrying so many people towards the States is checked, and we believe permanently. The arrivals are principally by the Arkansas and Smoky Hill Routes there being very few by the Platte route. The first great rush was by the latter route, they arrived too soon, before anything of importance could be done on account of the frost and snow and before work could be commenced to advantage, they were stricken by a panic and fled like chaff before the wind. The rush was again over the Platte route and it swept everything before it, the few who withstood its force and are now coming in, are men for the emergency, they have been tried and the ring of the true metal is in them. They will see for themselves. Those who came by the Southern route and have returned have with very few exceptions gone by the Platte route, consequently the travel seemed as great down as up that route, and another result is but few unfavorable reports have gone down either the southern or middle routes, and now the crowds are daily pouring in. At the same time, the season is improving, richer discoveries are daily being made in the mountains, the various ditches are rapidly approaching completion and one is in operation, the soreheads and grumblers are nearly all gone, the industrious are pushing into the mountains and everything begins to assume a livelier aspect, many faces are wreathed in smiles, that recently were buried in clouds. Under the old cottonwoods beneath our window, where so recently, crowds of loafers did love to congregate, and where we have heard so many curses loud and deep heaped upon the country and the people, and everything else, we see now no crowd of loafers, the people have been sifted and the chaff blown away.

Altogether the prospect looks cheering—the darkest hour is just before the dawn—we believe the day is breaking and that "There's a good time coming boys, wait a little longer."

EMIGRANTS REGISTER.

Tuesday, May 10, 1859.

J. G. Scott's train from Mo., 76 men, 9 wagons and two hand carts, came by the L. & P. P. Express route, all well; left on the 12th for the Jefferson diggings.

Nathan Winters, Adair county, Mo., T. Allison, same place; Dr. E. Boyd, Springfield, Mo.; C. S. Semper and Joe Clark, New Orleans; 40 days from St. Joseph via Platte route.

Wednesday, May 11.

Sherman, Fowl & Co., from Lee county, Ill.; 35 days from home 30 days from Missouri River via Platte route, two wagons seven men, all well.

Sibley & Buhler, from Kankakee City, Ill.

Ben Sherman, Vermont; three brothers Farwell, Amboy, Ill.

Thursday, May 12.

Jas. Thompson, Jno. Campbell, Walter Bogest, Wilmington, Ill.

D. K. Rassmissen, North Stirling, N. Y.; H Fenton, Cleveland, Ohio.

B. F. Dinius, A. Dinius, H. Dinius, G. Kepler, Wm. Baldwin, Perrysburg, Ohio, and four others, via Platte route 49 days from St. Joseph, Missouri.

Messrs. W. H. McCartney, J. C. Fuller, Walter Scott, T. Doolittle, of Leavenworth. Messrs. Stevens, Huntington, Purdy and Colburn, Iowa K. T., 21 days from Leavenworth, via Platte route. Passed 700 wagons below Fort Kearney bound for the mines; and met 1500 wagons this side of Kearney going back.

FALSE RUMORS.—We are informed that the returning emigration are giving currency to many absurd and false stories as they wend their way toward the States, such for instance as that "Denver and Auraria were burned—that all the old citizens were hung or had fled to the country—that a vigilance committee guarded the road, and when an emigrant wagon approached, it was surrounded and plundered, the cattle or horses killed, and the owners compelled to flee for their lives,"—all of which are so monstrously and outrageously false that we only wonder that people can be found who will believe them.

MINING NEWS.

A large force of men resume work on the Cherry Creek ditch this morning, 9th. In a few days both it and the Platte ditch will be completed, giving facilities for washing to hundreds of miners.

The Georgia company have completed a small ditch across a bend of the Platte river, and, we learn, run a "tom" one day, getting about one ounce of gold.

From the mountains and northern diggings the reports are very conflicting, some being very encouraging, and others the contrary. We do not publish any unless well authenticated.

There is still too much snow and ice in the mountains to operate to any advantage, but some reliable experienced prospecting parties are out and will report in a few days.

GEORGIA COMPANY.—This company began a ditch on the 2d day of May to carry water from the Platte to their diggings, three miles above this place. On the 7th they got the water through and began work:

7th—Run one tom,	5 men made,		$19.85
9th "	" 3 "	"	9.79
10th—Run 3 toms,	9 "	"	15.00
11th—Run 2 toms,	4 "	"	10.00

On the 9th inst., we washed two pans of dirt from their claim which yielded 44 cents, weighed. Any one can see it by calling at our office.

RICH LEAD.—S. B. Kirkland, of Saint John P. O., Harrison Co., Iowa, has just shown us a parcel of gold quartz which he states he found about twenty miles in the mountains on the head waters of Vasquer's fork, directly west of this place.

He has $1.70, which he says he panned from a single pan of dirt and rotten quartz rock.—Where he found this lead it has a width of from six inches to two feet and the depth is unknown. The quartz is very rotten and the pieces shown us literally glitter and sparkle with particles of gold.

NEW DISCOVERIES.—Hon. Henry Allen, late Postmaster at Council Bluffs, Iowa, returned three days since from a prospecting tour on the head waters of Vasquers Fork of Platte, about thirty-five miles west of this place, and twenty-five miles into the mountains. Mr. A. states that he found gold for two miles along the main creek and for one mile along Cook's Fork, wherever he prospected, which will pay for working from the surface downward. The gold is mountain or rough gold, the largest piece brought in is worth 95 cents, another worth 52 cents, and from that size downward; $7.80 was taken from 210 buckets of dirt dug from the surface downward to a depth of three feet, washed by one man in eight hours with a common rocker. A long tom was run three hours, yielding $6.50.

Scores of men are now leaving daily for the mountain mines of Vasquers and Saint Vrains Forks of the Platte. Every day brings reports of new discoveries, and a few weeks will demonstrate the value of the deposits.

Mr. Vinnage, of Taylor County, Iowa, has shown us a parcel of gold dust, weighing a little over $37, which he states was taken out by himself and one other man in two days' working with a sluice on a bar of Saint Vrains creek, which paid on an average 6 cents to the pan, and increased in richness as they descended. They could not reach the bed rock on account of water.

Messrs. Town and Patterson, with whom we are well acquainted, have been mining for 15 days past about three miles from this place, near the Platte river, and using only the common rocker for washing. Yesterday we saw their gold weighed, and the product of the 15 days was $117.08, or nearly four dollars per day to the man. All their dirt had to be hauled some twenty rods to the river to wash. As soon as the ditches are completed, bringing water to these diggings, large results may be expected.

MISCELLANEOUS NEWS.

CHERRY CREEK PIONEER.—Having sold the Cherry Creek Pioneer press and office to Mes rs. Byers & Co., of the Rocky Mountain News, we now bid adieu to our readers, and in doing so, beg to recommend the News to the public, and bespeak for it the patronage which should have been extended to us. We are now going to the Mountains, and instead of picking type we shall try our hand at picking gold.

CONSTITUTIONLL CONVENTION.—The following persons have been elected delegates to the Constitutional Convention, to meet on the first Monday in June:

DENVER CITY PRECINCT.—W. M. Belt, H. P. A. Smith, Wm. Clancy, R. E. Whitsitt, S. M. Wagener, S. W. Beall, Wm. Larimer, Jr.

HIGHLAND PRECINCT.—Judson H. Dudley.

AURARIA PRECINCT.—Henry Allen, Thos. Pollock, R. L. Wootten, Wm. N. Byers, D. D. Cook, Wm. N. Slaughter, L. J. Russel, A. Sagendorf and W. D. McLain.

UNFORTUNATE.—We regret to learn the wreck of Mr. C. Davisson's boat on the Platte, on his second day's sail, with the loss of his provisions, books, notes, clothing, &c., to the value of about $1000. Mr. D. had a fine collection of botanical and geological specimens, &c., which he intended as a present to the Chicago Academy of Science. Mr. D. describes the shores of the Platte along which he sailed as most beautiful and abounding in wild game; but he will take a safer method of travel hereafter.

STONE COAL.—We have heretofore omitted to mention the excellent quality of stone coal used by neighbor Pollock in his blacksmith shop in this city. This coal is obtained from a vein about eight miles west of this place. It has been penetrated from the top to a depth of eight feet and no bottom found. We have no doubt it is very extensive, and it is certainly the best of anthracite coal.

SUPPLIES.—On Saturday last Mr. Dunn's train arrived, bringing a large supply of provisions and goods. Yesterday Mr. Fisher's train arrived, bringing a large supply of provisions, goods, and house-furnishing materials. Many other trains are on the road, and there is every prospect of abundant supplies of all kinds henceforth.

NAPOLEONIC IDEAS,
BY THE
Emperor Louis Napoleon.
1 volume. 12mo. 50 cents.
CONTENTS:
Part 1st—Governments in General.
Part 2d—General Ideas: Mission of the Emperor.
Part 3d—Question of the Interior.
Part 4th—The Foreign Question.
Part 5th—Aim of the Emperor.
Part 6th—Cause of the Fall of the Emperor.
Part 7th—Conclusion.
This is a faithful translation of the great political mark of Napoleon III., and, like the original is written in a clear and vigorous style. It has the merit of being short, and of giving in a small compass the policy of France and her present government. It comes opportunely at this moment when so many and so important interests are held in suspense upon the question of Peace or War. Louis Napoleon here gives us his views concerning the United States and their destiny.

WATER WHEELS.
Vandewater's Recently Improved
Jonval Turbine Water Wheel.
OFFICE 81 SOUTH CLARK STREET,
CHICAGO.
I offer this Improved Turbine Water Wheel to the public with the fullest confidence and assurance of its Superiority Over All Other Wheels,
Without any exception. They are well adapted to (and have been tested in) Mills of all descriptions. They give a very steady and uniform speed, and are well adapted to very high as well as very low heads and falls. They will work well in back water without any material loss of power, and are not troubled with ice, as they are set inside of the forebay and discharged underneath. It requires a small amount of gearing to get up a high speed; costs but little to set up, and runs upon a step that needs no oiling, and will last for years. This wheel is capable of yielding a power of from 70 to 85 per cent. of the whole power of the water (according to the degree of finish of wheel) under high heads and falls, and is the cheapest, as it is warranted to work up to the power laid down in the table, and to give satisfaction when properly put up and geared.
State, County and Town territories for sale.
For further particulars see Circulars, which can be obtained at the Agent's Office, No. 81 South Clark-st.

SOMETHING NEW!!!
MITCHELL'S PATENT
Metallic-Tipped Boot and Shoe.
An improvement has been applied to Boots and Shoes, by which a Great Saving in Expense is made. Every Boot and Shoe Dealer knows that Children will wear out the toe the boot or shoe before any other part, and that it has hitherto defied the skill of manufacturers to obviate this difficulty.
THE "METALLIC TIP"
meets and overcomes it. A small piece of copper is neatly fastened to the toe of the Boot or Shoe, affording a complete protection to it, and rendering the wear of the toe equal to that of any other part.
We present this invention with the fullest knowledge of and experience in its Practical Utility. Having now for nearly two years been engaged in the sale, and having found it by its own intrinsic merits, actually surmounted every objection which could possibly be brought against it, we have no hesitation in saying that the Metallic-Tipped Shoe is destined to entirely supersede, for Children and Youth, the old style; and we consider it a moderate statement, that one pair of the Metallic Tips will outlast two or three pairs of the old style, making a saving of nearly two-thirds in the expense of shoes.
MESSRS. WADSWORTH & WELLS, OF CHICAGO,
Have been appointed Agents for the sale of the Boots and Shoes, and are authorized to dispose of Town and County Rights.
Communications addressed to them or the undersigned will receive proper attention.

N. B.—This invention is a complete protection from the cutting of the Prairie Grasses, and is especially adapted to Miners' use, and to all occupations which particularly expose the toe of the boot or shoe to being cut or worn. ap16-1y

The Wheat market opened this morning with a shade more confidence—the delay in the receipt of the steamer's news inducing a belief that it was more favorable, and therefore purposely withheld. With this view, some 12,000 bu Standard Wheat and 25,000 bu Corn changed hands at a shade of improvement on last evening's closing figures. The receipt of the news effectually dispelled this feeling, and the market fell to per bu in a few moments—recovering a little on 'Change, but continuing inactive during the afternoon at $1.11@1.12 for Standard Sprisg, which grade comprised the bulk of sales. Winter Wheat is nearly all held by a few parties, who refuse to concede to present figures, and it is therefore virtually held out of the market. About 61,000 bu Spring Wheat sold at $1.10@1.16½ for Standard, 98@ 101c for No 2, and 83c for Rejected.* Before receipt of steamer's news, Corn was in fair request for shipping, after which it became dull at a decline of 2@3c. About 30,000 bu sold at 73c for prime yellow River afloat, 72½ for Canal, and 66c for Rejected f. o. b.; 68@71½ for No. 1 Railroad in store, and 65c for No. 2 in bags on track. In the minor grains there is but little change; a shade more inquiry for Oats being noticeable.

Flour continues inactive, but the light stocks enable holders to disregard the fluctuations in the Wheat market, and prices remain nominally unchanged. Corn Meal is lower, as are also all descriptions of Mill Feed, which latter are also dull. Lake Freights scarce and unchanged. Butter and Poultry dull. Eggs better. Potatoes active at an advance. Hides active and firm. Highwines quiet at 26c.

NEW YORK—May 30.—Receipts, 18,959 brls flour, 10,659 bu wheat, 80,719 bu corn, 31,682 bu oats, 81 bu rye, 594 brls whisky.

ST. LOUIS—May 31.—Receipts (by River), 215 brls and 72 bags flour, 3,614 bags wheat, 5,648 bags corn, 939 bags oats, 1,440 bags potatoes, 220 brls whisky. By Railroad—292 brls and 168 bags flour, 914 bags wheat, 507 bags corn, 92 bags barley. Flour—sales of 5,000 brls at $6.25@6.37½ for superfine. Wheat advanced 3 @5c. Corn firmer. Whisky rallied; sales at 20c.
